

Plan Second Meeting To Discuss Recreation

Aurora — A committee under the chairmanship of Norman Bretz will reconvene another meeting June 17 of groups interested in the details of securing a recreation director for Aurora. A meeting attended by 25 persons representing some dozen groups in Aurora heard John Tett, director of recreation for Ontario, outline what was happening in some 50 other municipalities in the province and what the Ontario government was prepared to do in assisting the financing of a recreation director's salary.

"To me, and I think the government, recreation simply means people of all ages occupying their leisure time with some simple form of amusement that is engaged in for its own sake," said Mr. Tett. "Is it possible for every person in Aurora to participate in the form of amusement they want?" he asked.

Co-operation between existing groups, the supplement where necessary of sports and cultural programs already in existence, and the supplying of that which is lacking in the community were the main functions of a recreation program as he saw it. "It is a mistake to believe any one group alone in a community can adequately handle the job. It is a real community problem, because of its long range plan, and the financing involved."

The Ontario government left the question directly to the municipalities, he said. Was a recreation director needed? Who would form the committee? What would be included in a program? Leadership, he pointed out, was one of the biggest problems involved, and recreation director schools were being held and plans being developed for further training, especially of assistants.

"The plan must necessarily be approved by your council," said Mr. Tett. One-third of the cost of the recreation director's salary up to a maximum of $1,000 is paid by the government. In addition, one-third of the assistant director's fees up to $500 would be cared for as well as 20 percent of the annual amounts spent for equipment. Towns even smaller than Aurora were making a success of their recreation plan and industry in some communities was adopting a co-operative attitude in seeing a director was secured, he said.

FLAMES RAZE FRIEL'S BARN, HOUSE SAVED

On Sunday, May 18, a fire destroyed the barn and part of the livestock belonging to Ambrose Friel, 4th con., Queensville north. Implements, grain, harness, tools and all farm equipment stored in the barn were lost. A small building south of the barn caught fire but was extinguished by the fire trailer from Art Alexander's garage.

It was not until 15 minutes after the fire had started that Queensville central was notified. Neighbors had, in the meantime, notified each other on the party lines. Calls were not placed with the Newmarket fire department as each assumed the other had put in the call. According to central, no calls were placed with them for the fire department in Newmarket at any time.

Mr. Byron Silver, manager of Mount Albert Telephone Co., stated that "it is the duty of the operator to answer all calls and if a fire call to Newmarket is requested, the operator connects the party to the fire hall."

"I would like to emphasize that the operator is not responsible for doing the actual calling or speaking to the fire department," said Mr. Silver. "The company orders forbid this being done and only the party calling can be connected to the fire hall."

About 11 a.m. on Sunday, Mrs. Friel was attending her baby on the living-room table which faces the barn. Mr. Friel was resting on the couch in the front room, listening to the radio. Looking out of the window, Mrs. Friel noticed the flame and smoke licking out between the cracks in the barn and calling to her husband, they raced out to the barn. In the meantime, neighbors had noticed the fire and were on their way to help.

Reaching the barn, Ambrose fought the panic of the horses to release them from their halters. All except one were freed. It broke the halter rope and fled. A neighbor, Ken Rogers, released all the cattle and as Mr. Friel said, "I am indebted to him, for I would never have been able to get them out myself."

"It seemed only a matter of seconds and the whole barn was ablaze," Mrs. Friel said. "My husband sent me back to the house as he was afraid of falling timbers." Mr. Friel said he had the worst time with the saws and their young pigs.

"Normally they are stupid but in the panic and with their young, they were dangerous," he said. "At the barn, with neighbors' help, we even got some of them to the door and outside, but suddenly they turned and charged back in again. It would have been disastrous for anybody to attempt to stop them. Sections were starting to collapse and the heat was terrific, so we had to leave them and run outside as our own clothes were starting to smolder. I do not think any of the neighbors who were present, and myself, will forget the squeals of the young pigs as they were burned to death."

131 Cartons Food, Clothing Are Sent To Flood Victims

Newmarket — H. J. Luck, chairman of the British Flood Relief Campaign for Newmarket, reports that the citizens of Newmarket and the surrounding districts gave their full support to the campaign with the result the 122 cartons of clothing and nine cartons of food have been forwarded for shipment overseas.

"Included in the cartons of food were 20 useful and exceptionally well packed food parcels for individual families which were contributed by a ladies' quilting club," said Mr. Luck. "The entire proceeds of the May 13 bingo which was held at the town hall were donated by the Veterans' Association," continued Mr. Luck.

The children of the community deserve much credit for their co-operation in this campaign as their efforts brought in over 50 percent of all the clothing contributions, he said.

Money donations can be left at either the Bank of Montreal or the Bank of Toronto until May 26.

He then went to Toronto. He returned to Newmarket ten years later and bought the same business, operating it until he sold it to Hoffman Machinery Co. in November, 1945. He managed the foundry for the Hoffman company until his death.

WOMAN ATTACKED

Newmarket — An unknown assailant, described only as five feet nine or ten inches tall and wearing gray pants, on Saturday night attacked a Newmarket woman on Simcoe St. W., near Niagara, according to police. The incident occurred between 9 and 10 p.m.

The woman was walking alone and was nearing her home when the attack took place. She told police later that her assailant had come up behind her, put his hands over her mouth and then dragged her into a lot, and in the scuffle she threw her purse. The woman's screams apparently frightened her assailant at that point, and he ran away without touching the purse. There were no marks of violence on her person.

Town Body To Probe Assessment Inequalities

Newmarket — The Newmarket town council Monday night set up an assessment committee to investigate alleged inequalities of assessment. Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette made the motion to establish the committee. Reeve Arthur Evans seconded it.

"I have had the problem in mind for some time, and I have my committee all picked," said Mayor Vale after the resolution was passed. "I am going to ask Councilors Edwards and Luck and Reeve Evans to be the members of the committee. I chose them because the rest of us are all business men, and this way there can be no feeling that the committee might show any partiality or prejudice."

"One thing that we must not lose sight of is the fact that B. W. Hunter is the assessor, however, and the committee should consult him constantly. His recommendations should be considered seriously before any changes are made."

The resignation of Miss Helen B. Gardner as public health nurse was accepted, and Clerk Wesley Brooks was instructed to convey to Miss Gardner the regrets of the council that she is severing her connection with the town of Newmarket, and its "appreciation of the splendid service she has rendered to the town and the community."

The Newmarket arena was leased to Fred. M. Smith and Harold L. Smith, Toronto, from May 1 to November 1, for the sum of $600. Effective July 1, the council will enter into contract with Frank Johnson to collect, remove and dispose of garbage for the sum of $7,500 a year, to be paid for by the collection of 60 cents a month from each household and the payment of the $1,000 provided for that purpose in the 1947 budget.

The regular monthly meeting of the council will be held on the third Monday of the months from June to September inclusive. Motions were also passed granting $677.51 to the recreation commission and $200 to the Citizens' Band. Both amounts were provided for in the budget.

Promise Firemen Equipment In Return For Service

Newmarket — "We're going to see that you get the equipment you need and in return, we expect the service," Mayor Joseph Vale told a joint dinner meeting of the Newmarket town council and the Newmarket fire brigade on Thursday night in the Legion clubrooms.

The meeting, the first in 30 years at which the Newmarket firemen had been gathered, was sponsored by the fire committee of the Newmarket town council and was chaired by Councillor R. C. Morrison, chairman of the committee. Seated at the head table were Chief Harry Jones, Aurora, Chief Joe Brammar, Newmarket, Mayor Vale, Clerk Wesley Brooks, First Engineer James Coltham and Police Chief Ronald Watt.

"We have been very fortunate in regard to fire losses in Newmarket," Mayor Vale continued. "We would be blinding ourselves to the facts were we not to remember that there was a strong element of luck in our record. The firemen can't operate efficiently without the equipment. You are getting the equipment now. I ask of you a most rigorous training in its use. We can't afford to take a chance on loss of life."

No Luck in Past

"In the past we have wanted equipment from the town but didn't have too much encouragement," said Fire Chief Brammar.

Starting A New Business? Better Check On Licences

Newmarket — Want to run a bagatell game in Newmarket? According to a 1884 by-law, you must first pay a $50 license fee to the town. A shooting gallery sounds like a good proposition? Don't forget to pay your $50 license fee. An 1891 by-law makes it compulsory.

Don't think you can get out of paying the fee, either. Mayor Jos. Vale said in council Monday night that "there was no reason why such fees should not be collected. They would provide a substantial revenue." Town Clerk Wesley Brooks was the man responsible for bringing this information to light. At the mayor's request, Mr. Brooks dug into the records and listed all the by-laws licensing commercial operations. This is the report he took to the council:

"In 1884 by-law 39 was issued respecting shop licenses, but the by-law is not in effect now," Mr. Brooks said. "By-law 43, providing for billiard and bagatell tables in the town of Newmarket, was amended by by-laws 102, 263 and 379. "By-law 59, issued in 1886, fixed the fees to be paid for tavern and shop licenses. It was repealed by by-law 120. By-law 104 fixed the license fee for liveable stable owners at $40 a year. "By-law 106 licensed carters. The fee was $5 a year. This was amended by by-laws 136 and 159. By-law 112 licensed shooting galleries and was passed in 1891. The fee was to be $50 for each shooting gallery and $20 for each bowling alley. "By-law 155 set the fees for hawkers, peddlars and petty chapmen. It was passed in 1893 and was amended by by-law 328. By-law 354 regulated cinematograph and moving picture machines and theatrical exhibitions. The fee was to be $75. "By-laws 555 and 558 regulated jitneys and other vehicles for hire. The sum was $25 for each year, one car only; $50 where the licensee owns or operates two or more vehicles. The by-laws were to be changed by resolutions effective March 1, each year. "By-law 570 was for the benefit of transient traders. The sum was $100. The by-law was amended by by-laws 578 and 639. "By-law 603 licensed restaurants, laundries, junk shops and second-hand stores. It was passed in 1928. Only one man has paid it since 1938. The fee is $5 and the license expires on December 31," Mr. Brooks continued. "By-law 643 regulated the sale of milk and the fee is $1 a year. One dairy paid for the years 1939-46 inclusive; another for the years 1941 and 1942 while there is no record that the third ever made any payment. "By-law 740 regulated exhibitions of wax works, menageries, circus riding and other shows usually exhibited by showmen, and merry-go-rounds, switchback railways, carousals and so on. "By-law 679 provided for the licensing of the business of dry cleaners, dry dyers, cleaners and pressers. It appears that this by-law was never put into effect."

LIBERALS CHOOSE FIGHTING LEADER

The Ontario Liberals are fortunate in their choice of Mr. Farquhar Oliver as their new leader if his pre-election remarks are to be taken as an indication of his merit. Mr. Oliver delivered a rousing address in which he threw down a challenge to Premier Drew and the Progressive Conservative party generally. He would meet Premier Drew at any time and in any riding and defeat him, he said. And furthermore, given two years to clear the decks and he would sweep "Tory reaction" out of Ontario.

Strong words, confident words. The kind of talk Liberals have been waiting to hear for the last two years. It's the only kind of talk that will lead the redemption of the Ontario Liberals from their present low estate. And the sooner they are revived, the better it will be for the province. The overwhelming majority of the Progressive Conservative party is not conducive to good government. To ask that of it is to ask the ultimate of human nature and even the Progressive Conservatives with all their claims to human virtues can hardly claim perfection. The only guarantee of good government is a militant opposition, numerically strong.

Mr. Oliver's election on the first ballot of the convention climaxed a two-day meet which saw 600 delegates from all parts of the province hammer out a revised Liberal platform. Emphasis was placed on improved labor-management relations with the re-organization of the labor department; a promise; improved social and educational benefits; floor prices for farm produce and assistance to farmers in the organization of commodity groups; greater attention to the needs of youth; floor wages for men and women and the implementation of equal pay for equal work principle for women; a provincial health insurance scheme.

From that progressive and constructive program, Mr. Oliver has a strong base from which to launch his campaign against the Drew government. His admitted handicap in the past has been that while he might criticize, his party had no alternative policy. That handicap is now overcome and with his mandate as party leader, he can speak with a confidence heretofore lacking.

NEW DEAL FOR FIRE BRIGADE

A new attitude towards that essential public service, fire protection, was voiced by Mayor Joseph Vale at a dinner meeting of the Newmarket town council and the Newmarket fire brigade on Thursday night. Said the mayor in effect: We will give you the equipment but we expect the firemen to do an efficient job with it. You can't fight fires without equipment. Ask for what you need. We will see that you get it.

The mayor's words and the frankness, so usually absent from public affairs, with which they were spoken are praiseworthy. Their contrast with the policy of treating the firemen as orphans on the doorstep that has persisted in the past, speaks their own praise. The purchase of a new fire-truck with modern equipment indicates the council's willingness to back its words with action. In this connection, the manner in which the chairman of the fire committee, Councillor R. C. Morrison, undertook the provision of the truck is again in contrast with the lackadaisical approach towards public needs which is so often a feature of political life.

The importance of an efficient fire department with modern equipment can never be over-estimated. Newmarket has an excellent record of fire loss, a record, as the firemen themselves say, compounded in part of good fortune as well as good fire fighting. Unfortunately, there are those who mistake the low fire loss figures as an indication that vigilance can be relaxed, that the fire department may be allowed to go to seed. Those who would be complacent need only to look to Smith's Falls for evidence of such folly in their thinking. Smith's Falls had a record of fire-loss comparable to that of Newmarket. Yet, in recent months, it was swept twice by fire which destroyed in order the heart of the business district and a major factory building. Newmarket is no less vulnerable than Smith's Falls to such catastrophes.

The members of the Newmarket fire brigade are volunteers. Always on call, they accept the potential risk of life and limb every time the whistle sounds, without hesitation. There is often a tendency to jest at these men in their seriousness when they are deserving of respect. When the chips are down, it is to these volunteers that Newmarket looks for protection.

GAG FOR PAUL ROBESON

The possibility that Mr. Paul Robeson, noted baritone, might express an adverse opinion of the British Empire during the course of his concert in Toronto was the cause of considerable agitation among certain well-meaning Torontonians. Such was their concern that a condition was attached to Mr. Robeson's use of the Coliseum, namely that he should not speak.

The Toronto alderman, Mr. John Innes, and the manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, Mr. Elwood Hughes, two of the many zealots who helped provide the gag, are to be commended for their concern with the welfare of the British Empire. Among their achievements has been a new definition of that ancient British freedom, freedom of speech. As interpreted by these two freedom of speech is freedom to speak in an approved manner.

However, in their enthusiasm, they show a lamentable lack of confidence in the ability of the Empire to stand on its own merit. They will scarcely be thanked by those whom they are so anxious to protect. The British may become peeved over their detractors but it has not been their practice to shut them up, a policy worth noting by the members of the Toronto Police Commission.

Mr. Robeson is a better baritone than he is an authority on international affairs but if he insists on interrupting a concert in order to speak his mind, that is no concern of anyone but Mr. Robeson's. If the audience doesn't like it, they needn't listen. In the meantime, a little study of the meaning of free speech might be in order for the Toronto Police Commission and others of their thinking.

What Others Think

MR. OLIVER'S OPPORTUNITY

(The Toronto Daily Star)

Mr. Farquhar Oliver assumes the leadership of the Ontario Liberal party at a time when there is an opportunity to rebuild its fortunes practically from the ground up. The government has 66 seats in a House of 90 members; the Liberals 11, plus two Liberal-Labor members. The C.C.F. has eight of the remaining seats.

But while the government thus dominates the legislature, its strength in the country has notably declined, although the opposition has had a House leader only. Mr. Oliver yesterday explained to the Liberal convention the inherent ineffectiveness of such an arrangement. He has now been given the authority of full leadership.

A farmer, and a good one, Mr. Oliver entered the legislature at the early age of 22. He is only 43 today, in the prime of life, with unusual political experience for a man of that age. His is a great opportunity for useful service to Ontario.

Mr. Oliver should not make the mistake which some Liberals are making—that of disregarding conservatism as the real foe to be beaten. It is a Conservative government which Mr. Oliver has to upset if he is to attain office. It is conservatism which is the enemy of true liberalism. It is towards the aims of socialism, not away from them, that the path of liberalism lies.

At the very foundation of the structure on which Ontario Liberals must build must be social reforms, involving the welfare of the common man. It is on such issues that Mr. Oliver can best challenge Mr. Drew, whose whole outlook is away from social welfare towards the conservatism of other days.

MR. OLIVER TO THE LEADERSHIP

(The Globe and Mail)

The election of a new leader of the Ontario Liberal party is an event of high importance for all the people of the province. This is true because of the good influence which genuine Liberals can exert in any community, and for the local reason that a strong opposition in the legislature can help to promote efficient government.

Mr. Farquhar Oliver, elected leader on the first ballot by a sizeable majority and, reportedly, against Ottawa opposition, does not quite measure up to the demands of his new post, if he be judged, as he must be now, on his record to date. As member of the House continuously since 1926, cabinet minister for two short periods and Liberal House leader since the defeat in 1945, he has served ably but not brilliantly. Even his warmest admirers would not claim for him that he has shown the vigor, the abilities and the industry of the great figures who led the Ontario Liberals in the past.

On the other hand, Mr. Oliver is still only 43 years old. At that age, he has already more than 20 years of experience of legislative work. He is widely known and respected through the province. Possibly his new responsibilities will bring out unknown reserves of strength in him. This newspaper sincerely hopes so, and will appraise him, as the public will, too, by his performance.

The plank setting out "Liberal economic policy" in general terms is decidedly vague. "We do not believe in public ownership of business and industry," it reads. "However, we do believe in public ownership of any ventures which enjoy special privileges and perform public services, but which do not operate to the public benefit under free competition." Almost any party, even the moderate Socialists, could endorse that innocuous formula, because it leaves open the very point at issue. Which are the "ventures" that operate inefficiently under free competition? Giving no clue to the answer, this Liberal plank is almost meaningless as it stands.

On other points the platform is more specific and makes proposals which are sure of a large measure of public support. For example, the Liberals want to abolish the means test for old-age pensions and to make the pensions payable at 60 for women and 65 for men. With both proposals this newspaper is in hearty agreement, though believing that the pensions scheme should be contributory—a point not mentioned in the Liberal platform. We find no quarrel with the demand for "strict enforcement of the liquor law"—a plank which evidently implies Liberal approval of the changes in liquor legislation recently brought about by the Drew government.

As is the fashion nowadays, the Liberals make a strong bid for the support of "youth," but the soundness of their plans for the younger generation are open to question. What could a provincial "youth department" do which the existing departments of education, health and welfare cannot do now? But this "youth department" plan is one of the chestnuts of Ontario politics—and it cooks up into fine platform oratory.

Mr. John Groves is putting another storey on his house on Prospect Ave.

Empire Day was observed in Newmarket by the unveiling of the war memorials at the high school. Col. Clarke gave the address and Mrs. C. G. Ross and Mrs. E. N. Penrose, mothers of fallen heroes, unveiled the memorial tablets. The work commenced in 1919 and the total cost of just over $600 was paid by the high school.

The Friends Society has the appreciation of the town in the work of clearing the scrub and weeds away from the old cemetery on North Yonge St. Tombstones of the pioneers of the county have been uncovered including one marked July 18, 1908, for Ebenezer Doan, founder of the Doan family here in 1808; and Esther Robinson, mother of Sir John Beverly Robinson, Bart., C.B. Chief Justice of Upper Canada, who died July 22, 1827, aged 60 years. A tragic sequel to events is the mystery of where is the tomb of Dr. Besby, 117 years old, who lived on the farm adjoining the cemetery to the west, and who donated the property to its present owners. This condition of the graves and cemetery today could well be looked after and kept respectable, as it was in the older days. Surely such historic interest as this should not be allowed to pass into obscurity.

There are nearly 100 electric stoves installed in Newmarket. This shows that the people appreciate the low rate which the corporation is able to give because it is not linked up with hydro. It will be a sorry day for us if the hydro buys out the Metropolitan Radial railway.

50 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Friday, May 21, 1897.

Mr. Will Ego is slowly recovering from his recent illness and was out for a drive this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Malloy have moved back into town and are living on Eagle St.

Miss Florence Brimson, soprano, Toronto, has had great success in Paris under the tutelage of Madame Marchesi. In a musicale given by leading Italians of that capital, she sang a duet with Signor Tamagho, the leading Italian tenor of today. She was overwhelmed by compliments and had offers for other performances. Miss Brimson is a native of Newmarket and we feel proud of her talent.

Constable Steeper was sent to Uxbridge last week to bring back two men who borrowed a wagon from James Gibney, Holt, and did not return it. The case was later dismissed.

Miss Rachel Lloyd has returned home from visiting her sister, Mrs. Styles, Mount Albert.

Mr. Walter Armitage and Miss Hattie were visiting at Mr. C. W. Widdfield's on Sunday.

A large quantity of butter and eggs appeared on the market Saturday. Butter sold for 10c per lb. (some went as high as 12½c per lb.). Eggs sold at 8c

Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost every day.

The "story" behind the "story" of the excellent attendance at the Newmarket public schools centres around a cheerful, grey haired mother of four children who has acted as attendance officer for over 21 years. Mrs. Louise Hamilton celebrated her 21st completed year in that capacity in February.

"I have seen a lot of children come and go in that time," Mrs. Hamilton says. "The children of the ones who went to school 21 years ago are in the schools now. The one thing that I have noticed particularly is that the children, especially the girls, that caused trouble 21 years ago are the parents, in most cases, of the children that cause the trouble now. They are raising their children to act in the same way that they used to act themselves."

Both Mrs. Hamilton and her husband, the late Oswald Park Hamilton, were born in Lindsay. They lived "within a stone's throw" of one another for some time, but at the age of three Louise moved to Newmarket without meeting her future husband. She was educated at the then new Alexander Muir public school before her family moved to Oshawa and following her graduation from the high school there, she went to Toledo where she was in the millinery business for five years. "Hats were all made-to-order in those days. There were no factory made hats," Mrs. Hamilton says.

Mrs. Hamilton met Mr. Hamilton on a visit to Lindsay and in a short time she gave up her work in Toledo and came to Newmarket to marry him. Following the marriage in 1909, the couple moved to Toronto for a short time before coming back to Newmarket where Mrs. Hamilton has lived in the same house ever since. Mr. Hamilton died 25 years ago.

tioned on the west coast for four end a half years. Mrs. Hamilton also has three grandchildren, including a pair of twins.

Mrs. Hamilton says that she thinks that Jim was the only one of her children who might possibly have "played hooky" a few times, but admits that she never caught him doing it.

A member of Trinity United church, Mrs. Hamilton belongs to both the W.A. and the W.M.S. and for some time has been looking after welfare work. Her services will be lost shortly, however, when she moves to Toronto to live with her unmarried daughter and "just sit".

Following a recent inspection of the three public schools, Inspector O. M. MacKillop described the attendance in each school as excellent, with the further comment that "Mrs. Hamilton, the attendance officer, is giving most commendable service in this department to the Newmarket schools", and when Mrs. Hamilton's resignation was received at the last meeting of the public school board, chairman Rudy Renzius asked, "Isn't there some way that we can persuade Mrs. Hamilton to stay?"

The bala was discussed and collectors were appointed. A delicious lunch was then served.

BRAY?
O.K!

"Bray? O.K." That's what hundreds of poultry raisers will tell you—O.K. for health, vigor, fast growth, early full development, real egg and meat production.

These qualities which have made Bray Chicks so widely and so favorably known are important at any time of year; and with chicks started from now on vigor, fast growth and early, full development are doubly important. Make sure you get the kind that will come on FAST—order Bray chicks.

Time to Cull

A hen that isn't laying at this time of year will probably never pay her way. So it's good business to cull your flock heavily, get rid of the loaders and put what you get from them into good chicks and good feed to raise them.

It's also good business to make provision now for good, green pasture for your growing birds. Lots of short, tender green feed will save you purchased growing feed, and raise you better birds.

Time to Order

If you haven't already ordered your chicks—or if you could handle a second lot—don't put off ordering. We can give prompt shipment now.

There is still some indifference to the by-law, effective May 1, in regard to dogs. Quite a few are still at large in the village and are causing a complete nuisance to law-abiding citizens. Why should a few get away with it, and the remainder have to put up with dogs tearing around gardens, pestering dogs that are tied up, and creating a general disturbance.

Marie Lyons will lead the Scarborough Ladies' choir at Queensville United church on Wednesday, May 28. Proceeds will be added to the organ fund.

Wedding, At W.M.S. Meet

The W.M.S. of the United church held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Bibby, and 17 members and 13 visitors were present. The business of the meeting was conducted and was followed by an instructive and pleasing program, with Mrs. B. Armstrong in charge. It consisted of short prayers, readings, and a solo by Mrs. A. Smith, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Because it was Mrs. Bibby's birthday, the ladies all sang "Happy Birthday to You." It was also the 33rd wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Bamford. The ladies again sang. Congratulations to You for them.

Both ladies replied briefly, and a splendid meeting was brought to a close.

POTTAGEVILLE
FIFTY YEARS MARRIED, DISPLAY TIER OF CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Coburn, Tottenham, marked their golden wedding anniversary on Monday, May 12, with a celebration at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor, Schomberg. Many gifts were received by the couple, who have spent the last 33 years in Tottenham, where Mr. Coburn, still quite active, operates a blacksmith shop. Mrs. Coburn looks after her own house and garden.

A special feature of the afternoon was the displaying of the top tier of the wedding cake of 50 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Coburn have three daughters, Mrs. S. Proctor, Schomberg, Mrs. D. Fines, Bolton, and Mrs. M. Pettit, Kirkland Lake, four grandchildren, Beatrice and Jack Proctor, Schomberg, and Donald and Lois Pettit, Kirkland Lake. Friends were present from Toronto, Bolton, Beeton, Barrie, Orillia, Kirkland Lake and Schomberg.

HEARTEASE
She loves her garden. Here she slowly walks
Among her flowers: The lovely hollyhocks
Standing there stately by the garden wall
In pride exulting they have grown so tall:
The dainty mignonette, the larkspur blue,
The Canterbury bells of gorgeous hue,
She looses earth around a columbine,
Sprinkles some water on the cypress vine,
Then stoops to lift the fallen leaves, a stone
Some careless boy at play has idly thrown;
She gathers flow'rs whose lovely colors blend
To brighten the gray room of a sick friend.
Having found ease from worries of the day
She kneels beside her bed, humbly to pray.
— V. Stone.

GEO. W. LUESBY, JR.

Verna Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ellis, became the bride on Saturday afternoon of George Wakelyn Luesby, Newmarket, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Luesby. The ceremony took place in St. Barnabas church, Toronto, which was decorated with spring flowers. Rev. H. W. Garbutt officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a portrait gown of heaven blue satin, trimmed with matching lace. A fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in a coronet of matching lace. Her bouquet was of pink roses, bouvardia and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Lawrence Ruse, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Frances Luesby, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in silk jersey gowns, the former in rose and the latter in jonquil yellow, and they wore matching jersey and net headresses and carried cascades of pink roses.

Best man was John Luesby, brother of the groom, while Lawrence Ruse and Harry Ellis acted as ushers.

MOUNT ALBERT
World One Community, Missionary Declares
 Mount Albert United church had as guest speaker on Sunday Rev. J. C. Thompson, B.A., field secretary of the missionary and maintenance department of the United church. Mr. Thompson has recently been directing the Crusaders' Cavalcade which has so impressed the church. At the morning service his subject was Stewardship.
 "Everybody in the world is my neighbor," he said. "Because of the modern means of communication and transportation the world has become one neighborhood, but while this is true in a material sense, spiritually, different races and classes are poles apart. We have got to learn to live together as neighbors if war is to be avoided and civilization survive. When we come to think of how we are undertaking our task we realize that our present efforts are quite inadequate. The average giving of a United church family to missionary work are about $4 per year, a little over one cent a day. The average spent on recreation is much greater than that. We must realize that we are stewards of all we possess and give of our time and talents and means to meet our neighbors' needs," he concluded.

 Mr. Thompson, was formerly minister of Clute Island Falls, in Cochrane Presbytery, in north-west Quebec, in Temiskaming Presbytery and at South Porcupine in Cochrane Presbytery, and he knows the whole northern country well. At a special evening service he told of his experiences in mission work in the north and showed many beautiful natural color pictures of the lakes and rivers and woods; of the mining, lumbering and pulpwood industries; of the hydro electric developments, farming, etc. He also had pictures of many of the new churches and mission halls where services are held and the work of the church is being carried on.

LEGION STARTS DRIVE FOR ENCLOSED ARENA
 At a special meeting on Friday of the Mount Albert branch of the Canadian Legion, 13 members were present. A new date has been set for the meetings of the branch. Effective June 2 all meetings will be held the first Monday in the month. The executive would like to draw attention to this point and urge members to be sure that all comrades know of the change.
 This new arrangement will provide one more meeting before Sports Day, June 7, and it is hoped that as many members as possible turn out for this special meeting.
 The Legion is still lacking arrangements for Sports Day in certain items and help is needed. Passed at the meeting was a motion asking the Legion to begin gathering funds for the erection of an enclosed arena to provide a comfortable place for skating and other indoor games.
 Remember, comrades, the next meeting on June 2.

'OLD MILL' FACTORY FOR HOUSEHOLD GOODS
 The building known as the "Old Mill" in the north end of Mount Albert now houses the Sela Company of Canada, manufacturers of household equipment. The firm is a partnership of Messrs. McLaren and Martin and employs six men.
 The "Old Mill," long a landmark in Mount Albert, was formerly a woollen mill and operated by Mr. Ross. Later it was used as a skating rink and a place for parties. A few years ago, it was purchased by Charles Scott who used it as a dance hall. It was not in use when bought by its present owners about a year ago.
 Mr. McLaren says that his main handicap is the lack of material. "It is impossible to obtain some of the new items that we need," he said. The firm plans to produce a complete line of household equipment such as kitchen cabinets, sinks, electric ranges, heater stoves, etc.
 "We have most of the equipment needed for our business and only wish we could offer a satisfactory production rate to meet the demand," said Mr. McLaren. Mr. Martin, the other partner, is at present living in Toronto.

TENNIS CLUB PLANS FOR SECOND COURT
 The Mount Albert Tennis club held a special meeting last week in the Community hall in the form of a social with euchre and 500 after the business of the club was finished. The club is intending to make another court. At present there is only one and when they have two courts they can then enter league competitions with other towns.
 A musical entertainment was provided by James Rennie and Gordon Macpherson, violin, Arnold boys at the guitar and Alvin Dike at the piano. Prizes were given for the card games and were won by Mrs. Kurtz (euchre) and Mrs. Stonehouse (500). All proceeds went in aid of the fund for the new court.

MOUNT PLEASANT
 The Mount Pleasant church anniversary services will be held on Sunday, June 8, with services in the morning at 11 a.m. and evening 7:30 p.m. There will be special music at both services with a supper on the following Monday.
 Mrs. Robt. Davidson reports that the strawberries are in bloom with raspberries not wintering very well as the heavy drifting of snow broke the canes. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moulds and Isabelle had Sunday supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bosworth. Gen. Davidson celebrated his 13th birthday on May 12.

The 6th Pig is the Breadwinner

EXPERTS say that five pigs per litter only pay for the sow's keep and their own food. Profit starts with the sixth pig. Also that the condition of the sow during pregnancy and at farrowing time determines the number of pigs in the litter, their weight and vigor.
 So it all boils down to a feeding problem. How can you feed for best results and still keep cost within reason? We suggest that you consult your agricultural college or experimental farm about this.
 If you wish to purchase foundation or breeding livestock, ask the manager of our nearest branch for a Farm Improvement Loan. Such loans are constantly being made to responsible farmers for any purpose designed to improve their farms or better their living conditions.

SINCE 1847
 100 YEARS AGO in Canada, mail was delivered by couriers who collected the postage in cash. The first sewing machine resulted in a riot among employees of master tailors. There were only a few struggling newspapers, and only the beginning of a railway.
 Under such conditions and during a period of acute national instability, the Canada Life was born. Though many financial institutions failed in the great depression which followed, the Canada Life, founded on a sound and conservative basis, weathered the storm. It has progressed through 100 years of wars, epidemics and depressions. In the meantime life insurance has become the accepted means by which Canadians safeguard the security of their dependents.

Ford's finer in '47!
 For the motorist who likes to get going, the '47 Ford V-8 offers the pep and pull and rippling power of its V-type engine—the type used in the most expensive cars. Low axle ratios let the engine loaf while the car hustles. Result: smoother travelling, less strain, longer engine life. And there's the newly styled instrument panel with big new dials for easy reading; new body colours, new front end appearance; new stainless steel bumpers; moulding; new heavier bumper guards; and many other new features.
 Ford is out in front in beauty—in comfort—in performance. Ask your Ford and Monarch dealer about delivery. We hope soon to be catching up with that long list of patient people who won't be satisfied with anything less than Ford V-8 performance for their money.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT 'BLINDED BY LIGHTS' CHARGE DISMISSED

A charge of careless driving against George Robinson, Toronto, was dismissed in magistrate's court on Friday morning. Magistrate J. E. Pritchard, K.C., presided.

Albert Rundle, Toronto, testified that he had been driving south on No. 12 highway, north of Queensville, at about 8:30 p.m., and was nearing the brow of a steep hill when he noticed the reflection of a car's lights approaching. "Then I saw the lights and the car started to veer toward me. It struck my left front fender, the left side of my car, and the back wheel," Rundle said. "I was driving on the right side of the road about two or three inches from the soft shoulder."

He said that he had been driving with his lights on the low beam all the time, and that he had never changed them.

Constable J. E. Jardine said that he had arrived on the scene in less than five minutes and had noticed and measured two marks on the road. One of these he said was made by a bolt, the position of which he described as about a foot inside the left front wheel of the Robinson car. He said that the mark that the bolt had made was nine feet, 10½ inches from the east side of the pavement, and that the front wheel must therefore have been about 10 feet, 10½ inches from the side. He said that the road was 18 feet wide at that point.

The second mark he described as a skid mark about 12 inches west of the first mark. He said that it had been made by the left front tire of the Robinson car. He said that he had had to scuff the gravel away from the side of the road with his foot to get the measurements, and there were no marks on the road to indicate where either car had been prior to the point of impact.

Says Lights Bright

Robinson said he had been driving on the extreme right side of the road, and the right side of his car had been within a foot of the edge of the visible portion of the highway. He said he had been going between 30 and 35 miles an hour with his lights on the low beam. He said that the lights of Rundle's car had been very bright, and when the cars had been about 50 feet apart, the lights had swerved and struck him full in the face. He said that he had been blinded by the lights and that immediately applied the brakes. "In his opinion, the lights of Rundle's car were on the high beam," he said. He claimed that Rundle had admitted the fact at the time of the accident. He said that he blamed the accident entirely upon the lights. William Littlejohn, a passenger in Robinson's car, corroborated Robinson's evidence.

R. V. Shea, acting for the accused, said that from the evidence of both Robinson and Littlejohn, Rundle had committed a breach of a statutory regulation by failing to dim his lights after dark for the benefit of an approaching car, that Rundle's car had swerved toward Robinson's when 50 feet away, and that the sudden emergency created a "terror" which must be taken into account.

After reviewing the evidence, Magistrate Pritchard said he was inclined to accept the evidence of Constable Jardine that accused's car had been over the centre line, but that he also accepted Robinson's evidence that Rundle's lights had blinded him. "There were no eyewitnesses, and having regard to all the circumstances I find that the accused is entitled to the reasonable doubt that exists, and the case will be dismissed," he said.

Halves Fine

Convicted of having a case of beer at her home in Pefferlaw, which had previously been declared a public place, Mrs. Mary Ann Godfrey was fined $10 and costs. The original fine imposed was $25 and costs, but Magistrate Pritchard ordered it reduced, and the police costs almost halved when a satisfactory explanation of the reason for the Crown asking for a remand last week was not forthcoming. The original costs involved amounted to almost $43.38. They were ordered reduced to $23.45. Accused admitted having had a case of beer at her home when Constables Wm. R. Hill, Wm. Andrews, and H. W. Reid had entered on a search warrant. She said she had been sick in bed, and that the beer had been delivered by mistake.

A trespassing charge against Pearl Sadler, Holland Landing, was dismissed when she produced the rental contract which the complainant, John A. Campbell, had signed. One of the clauses of the contract was that Campbell was paying "the rent of the house only, not the land." Mrs. Sadler claimed that by this clause her husband, Campbell's landlord, retained all rights over the land. Complainant claimed that he could not read, and that the clause had not been read to him at the time that the contract was signed. Harold Jenks testified that he had been signing and that the clause in dispute had been read to the complainant. W. D. Agnew, Toronto, Vernon Rye, Keswick, and J. Dane, Brampton, pleaded guilty to a charge of having pike in their possession during the closed season and were each fined $10 and costs. Lawrence Reuben, Aurora, pleaded guilty to Const. T. H. Craig's charge that he had failed to produce his driver's license when requested, and was fined $5 and costs. Wm. Stacey was fined $10 and costs when he was convicted of driving with faulty brakes. J. H. Williams was fined $5 for failing to produce his operator's license and $5 for failing to have his trailer equipped with a license plate.

BELHAVEN

BELHAVEN W.I. TOLD CELLOPHANE STORY

The Women's Institute met at Belhaven community hall on Tuesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Yorke, the new president, in the chair.

It was decided to send a car load of ladies to the district annual in Newmarket which was held on May 14. Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Mann being chosen delegates to give a report at the June meeting. It was also decided that four ladies would plan to attend the convention at Guelph in June.

The program for the afternoon included community singing with Miss Winnie Willoughby at the piano. Miss Willoughby also played two beautiful piano solos. Mrs. Harry Horner read an interesting article entitled Uncle By while Mrs. Erwin Winch gave a short recitation. Of special interest was a paper given by Mrs. Wm. Harris, Sutton West, entitled Cellophane. She explained that cello stands for cellulose, a spruce product, while phane comes from a Greek word meaning thin. Cellophane in the earlier stages is made the same as rayon silk, differing only in that rayon is made into individual threads while cellophane is rolled while in a viscous state into thin layers. Cellophane was first invented in France in 1908 where it received its present name. It was not until 1932 that extensive manufacturing of this product was done in Canada.

A contest was then held in which Mrs. John Wilkinson and Mrs. Andrews tied for first place.

After the singing of the National Anthem the ladies spent a social half hour during which lunch was served by Mrs. B. Davidson and Mrs. Erwin Winch.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Leading a Dog's Life

Peter is six years old. He wants a dog. Peter has two younger brothers and a baby sister who keep his mother very busy. If a dog is added to the family, Peter will have to assume the responsibility for its welfare—its meals, constant supply of fresh water, grooming, etc. Is it fair to entrust a dog's care to a six-year-old—fair to the dog?

Peter's main reason for wanting a dog is because his playmate, Billy, has a dog. Billy is also a six-year-old; he lives next door. Billy's mother admits that Billy feeds his dog once in a while, at his own convenience; but she has to assume practically total responsibility for the pet. There are no other children in the family, so Billy's mother has had time to devote to the dog's welfare.

The situation would be so different if Peter had a dog. Peter would have to make it his business to look after his dog with no help from mother. Naturally, Peter promises he will do everything for the dog; in fact, he promises he will do everything and anything for everyone and anyone if only he can have a dog. Peter wants a dog very badly.

Perhaps Peter will make a good and kind little master. Some arrangements might be made whereby Peter could have a dog on trial. For the dog's sake, Peter's mother shouldn't be stuck with a dog if Peter shirks his responsibilities for its care.

It might be possible to borrow Billy's dog. To give Peter an idea of what is expected of him with respect to caring for a dog, a schedule of daily procedure should be prepared. Peter might look after Billy's dog at Billy's home under Billy's mother's supervision. If Peter is spasmoidic in his attentions towards the dog's needs or tires of the work in connection, he will conclude that dogs aren't worth the bother of looking after them. He will then decide he doesn't want a dog after all and will content himself just playing with Billy's dog.

It's very nice for a boy to have a dog but it isn't quite fair to the dog to give him an irresponsible young master.

In Memoriam

Allen—In loving memory of a dear mother, Alydia Allen, who passed away May 23, 1946. Dear mother, you are not forgotten. Though on earth you are no more. Still in memory you are with us. As you always were before. Sadly missed by Daisy and Wes.

Widdfield—In loving memory of our darling son, Ivan Widdfield, who passed away May 18, 1943, age 3 years, 5 months. No stain was on his little heart; Sin had not entered there; And innocence slept sweetly on That pale white brow so fair. He was too pure for this cold earth; Too beautiful to stay; And so God's holy angels bore Our darling Ivan away. Always remembered by mommie and daddy, sisters and brothers.

PART OF D.A. MORNING SESSION

A day with the background of the blue, blue sky of Canada, a day framed in daffodils and the tender yellowish green of a shy and backward spring—such was the morning of May 14 which saw women converging from all directions on the Newmarket Presbyterian church, for the annual meeting of the district Women's Institutes. These women were not seeking "idle entertainment", but had a purpose—and such a purpose—the betterment of home and country, something over 140 had assembled when Mrs. Baak, our district president, brought the meeting to order.

The meeting opened with the Maple Leaf and the Opening Ode, followed by the report of secretary-treasurer Mrs. Barry Sinclair. It was an excellent report, embracing all the reports of the standing committees of the previous year and touched on every problem confronting the Institutes and their contributions to the solution. It was heard throughout the church and this is certainly a pleasure as it's hard to be attentive if a speaker's words only reach the audience in disconnected bits. Following this came the address of welcome by Mayor J. Vale. Mr. Vale said it was a distinct pleasure for him to speak for "one of my first experiences in public speaking was addressing the W.I. at Bogartown". Thus he had always had a warm spot in his heart for the W.I.

Sorry, No Key

He welcomed the members of the D.A. on behalf of the town of Newmarket and was only sorry he had not a key—golden or otherwise—of it to present to the president. He said he was glad the weather was so favorable. It reminded him of the king "who would a-hunting go"—and hired a weatherman, a farmer and a jackass to foretell the weather. The farmer was more successful in his predictions than the weatherman and when asked his secret, said "It's my jackass—if his ears are up, the day will be fine, if down—bad weather."

Mr. Vale thought the amount of business on our agenda enormous and said the W.I.'s would be amused at what men's gatherings were supposed to do in the same length of time. He continued by saying he thought the W.I. members hardly realized what a power for good they could be and hoped they would add to their efforts the showing of movies proper for children and also supervision of comics. He concluded by saying that the town of Newmarket was fortunate in having been chosen as the meeting place of the D.A. and that any facilities the town possessed which would add to the usefulness or pleasure of the meeting were at their disposal.

Mrs. C. Marchant, in responding, said she counted it an honor to have been asked to reply to Mr. Vale's instructive and interesting address. He had given some fine suggestions for future work, she said. Women of all creeds and classes are proud to have helped in the 50 years of the Institute's life. She said a little story came to her mind of a clergyman visiting another parish. There was a box at the door for voluntary contributions and the minister dropped in 50 cents. After the service, one of the men drew the clergyman, who was accompanied by a small son, aside and told him the contents of the box at the door were always for the visiting clergyman. So he shook the box and out dropped the clergyman's 50 cents! The small son remarked, "if you'd put more in, dad, you'd have gotten more out!" She said that is the way with W.I. work—we get out of it, in proportion to what we put in. Concluding, she said "we treasure the past; we face the future—and thank you, Mr. Vale, on behalf of the Women's Institute. We then had a financial report by Mrs. Sinclair. She deplored the fact that two branches had failed to send in their statements, hence she could not close her books and could only give the report as at present.

Send Thanks

The Laskay branch sent a note of thanks for the brief bag which they received last year. The Institutes of the central area extended greetings. It was also announced that the area convention would be held at the Royal York hotel on November 10, 11 and 12—and those wishing accommodation at the hotel would be wise to make reservations at once. Reduced railway rates will be available for those who wish to attend the 50th anniversary celebration at the O.A.C. Guelph, June 18. From personal observation, I'd say nearly every Institute has chartered a bus. It will be a great day. Members will provide their own lunches; tea will be served at the college. York County Children's Aid have said that they would like a W.I. member on their board.

Mrs. A. Ridley was then called on to give her report on Agriculture and Canadian Industries. She regretted that more reports had not been sent in. Those sent in were excellent. The various branches had many vital topics discussed such as showing sound films on agriculture, the control of bugs and diseases, storing fruits and vegetables, a talk on a dude ranch in British Columbia, contest on Canadian industries, Uranium for atomic energy, plastics and minerals, libraries should be increased, bees and agriculture, highlights on agriculture convention, the growing of cranberries, new industries started by refugees, the worth of farm forums, the preservation of food and beautification of farm homes.

Mrs. L. Johnston gave a report on home economics. She also regretted that only a few of the branches sent reports. Those reporting had had varied programs, discussing marriage laws, woven grass, home and country, ways of cooking and serving strawberries, salad demonstration, crippled children, community singing, serve hot dinners—two lunches, giving war brides a pair of blankets, do's and don'ts for marriage, china demonstration, essential practices for a good home, what makes a good home, demonstration on salad dressing, also sock repairing, interesting household duty and labor saving devices for kitchen, what one may wear in the future and handcraft demonstration.

Social welfare was given by Mrs. Lavolette. She said all branches reporting had been active in social welfare and many means were used to give aid and talks for enlightenment. One Institute adopted a family and sent parcels regularly. Bazaars were held, war bride presented with quilt, first aid chests were replenished, a woman and six children in England adopted. Blue Cross introduced, relief sent to food victims, China fund, the blind, a Halloween party given for children, cards were sent to sick and shut-ins, pens and pencils to veterans, kitchen shower, children of working mothers cared for, glasses for a child, series of bird pictures presented to school, a turkey supper to make money for work, a book club that developed into a library, a talk on cancer, a layette, one branch presented life membership to secretary-treasurer.

At this point we were favored with two songs by Mrs. Foxcroft, Newmarket, I'll Walk Beside You and Curly-Headed Baby. Mrs. T. F. Lowdes now reported on historical research. Many branches were getting together material for their Tweedsmuir histories, talk on Russia and democracy, U.E. Loyalist history, history of North York, early days of York, Davis history of King twp., Quaker settlement around Aurora, first passenger train from Toronto to Aurora, how Temperanceville got its name, when horses made way for hydraulic pressure.

Citizenship came next, Mrs. A. Boyd reporting. The names of branches and their convenors should be plainly given, also all names of branches reporting should be given. Talks on temperance, citizenship, home and school were given. The importance of home and environment stressed, lack of home training, a sad commentary on some living. Sunday-school, church and clean recreation, also the drawing of children into community activities are all important in making good children and so, good citizens. War brides need warm welcomes; one branch gave membership to such for a year. We must carry on our boys' work, give allegiance to government and benefit by the precept and example of Britain. What a man or woman does depends not on hands or feet but on the soul—and the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world.

Making cancer pads, learning of cancer research, hearing papers on citizenship, also papers on what the British Empire means to me, becoming more familiar with problems of today, do you know Canada? citizens in the making.

Mrs. A. van Nostrand then read the resolutions sent in: (1) by Newmarket urging the government to make vaccination for bangs disease compulsory; (2) Elmhurst Beach asks for return of government grants to aid in serving hot lunches to school children; (3) Elmhurst Beach asks government for stricter Sunday observance.

The report of the nominating committee was then given. After this Mrs. Marchant thanked Mrs. Sinclair and the branches for the beautiful comport presented to her on her retirement from her post of district secretary-treasurer.

A Correction
In my report of the comedy, Have a Heart, one of the most important and delightful characters was omitted, that of Fritz, the substitute wife, played by Betty Hope. Seldom does an amateur enter into a part as Betty did into that of a chorus girl trying to be a fine lady. Her pseudo-English accent, her evening gown that glitters, her mistaking of the butler for a businessman and her rejection of his ring until she finds the businessman has other interests, is intensely funny and as I said before, played with more than an amateur skill.

A BIG SAVING
A Hollywood dress shop owner met a friend, who greeted him with: "Joe, I hear your shop was robbed last night. Lose much?" "Some," answered the owner, "but it would have been much worse if the burglars had got in the night before."
"How's that?"
"Well, yesterday I marked everything down 20 percent."

As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. Big car value in small details, too! Most Chevrolet models have retractable assist straps, ventilating rear-quarter windows, ash receptacle set into the top of the instrument panel, and either one or two in the rear passenger compartment.

Jr. Judging Competition To Be Held On June 4

The annual York County Junior Farmers' judging competition and girls' achievement day will be held in the Newmarket district on Wednesday, June 4. The boys are asked to register at the Ontario department of agriculture office before 8.30 a.m. The girls will register at St. Paul's Parish Hall, D'Arcy St., Newmarket, for their achievement day.

The competitors will judge ten classes of livestock, which will include two each of dairy cattle, swine, horses, sheep and beef cattle. Reasons will be given on one breed in each class, and the prize money will be based on total score. The competition will be divided into both a senior and junior group, the former for men under 30 and over 23, the latter for those under 23.

Owing to the reduction of the number of Chicago trips because of the limited accommodation, York county will send a boy to Chicago in 1947. The U.S.A. trip is open to all unmarried contestants except previous trip winners and those born prior to November 1, 1921. This award of $45, donated by the York County Junior Farmers' Association, will be made on the basis of a creditable standing in two of the last three judging competitions, outstanding leadership, including executive work in Junior Farmer activities, participation in project clubs, such as calf, swine or grain clubs, participation in Junior Farmer projects such as public speaking, home planting, dramatics, etc., and the winner must be a member of a local Junior Farmer Association in York county.

Attractive exhibits of girls' work done during the past year will be featured under the three units. "Cottons may be smart," "Summer clothes for girls," and "Dressing up home-grown vegetables." The public is cordially invited to view these exhibits during the day. For outstanding accomplishment and under rules similar to the boys' award, this year a trip to Washington has been arranged.

There will be a banquet in the evening at 6.30 in the basement of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, at which time the names of the prize-winners will be announced and the trophies and prizes awarded.

Tells How To Control Late Blight Of Tomato

"Owing to the serious outbreak of late blight of tomatoes in 1946, it is recommended that growers protect the plants in the seed beds by spraying or by dusting, and also be prepared to spray or dust in the field," Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn said in an interview yesterday. "Farmers should spray or dust seed beds, depending on equipment available, with a fixed copper. For spraying they should use such compounds as copper A compound, cupro-cide, C.O.C.S., basicop or tri-cop (tri-basic copper sulphate). For dusting they should use such compounds as C.O.C.S., or Trox and should follow manufacturer's directions.

They should also be sure the plants are thoroughly covered, including the undersides of the leaves. Spraying is then more effective. If a high pressure sprayer is used the spray nozzle should not be brought closer than four feet to the plants.

"The first spray or dust should be applied when the first true leaves are well formed. If transplanting is done before the first true leaves are well formed, the first application should be delayed for about one week after transplanting.

"Applications should be repeated every seven to ten days. The last application should be made three or four days before planting in the field," Mr. Cockburn continued.

In The Field

"It is recommended that all tomatoes be planted in rows six feet apart, with the plants two and a half feet apart in the rows. This will greatly facilitate spraying when necessary. Late Blight may be controlled in the field by spraying or by dusting; spraying is more effective. The fixed coppers indicated above should be used in the seed bed.

"To be effective, the spraying or dusting must be done in such a way as to thoroughly cover all above-ground parts of the plants, including both sides of the leaves. The first spray or dust should be applied when the disease is first reported in the district. Applications should be continued at seven to ten-day intervals, especially during periods of cool, wet weather. Prolonged periods of hot, dry weather retard the spread of the disease, and hence the intervals between applications may be lengthened. Arrangements are being made to inform growers when to begin spray or dust applications."

Mr. Cockburn said that it was especially important to destroy all plants not used in the field, because they may be a source of the disease. "Plants suspected of being diseased and requests for further information should be sent to the department of botany, O.A.C., Guelph, Ont., to the dominion laboratory of plant pathology, St. Catharines, Ont., or to the dominion laboratory of plant pathology, Harrow, Ont.," Mr. Cockburn concluded.

Heavy Snow Costs Cut Gravel Appropriation

Whitchurch—Heavy demands for snow shovelling last winter will have their effect on the roads in Whitchurch twp. this summer, the township council decided at the May meeting held on Saturday. L. P. Evans, reeve, presided.

The road appropriation by-law this year of $30,000 saw heavy inroads made on the total during the winter and council estimated that it was faced with the alternative of putting on about 2,000 yards of gravel this summer or increasing the budget.

"I favor staying within the budget," said Reeve Evans, and members agreed. A limited sum is allotted for grading, dust layer, culverts, etc., leaving only the amount estimated for gravel. Since tenders must be called for gravel, council will contact the department of highways to ascertain whether or not this will be necessary, in view of the smallness of the contract.

A by-law was passed to license tourist and trailer camps and the fees or license was set as follows:

Private home where transient tourists admitted, $3 per year; any place used chiefly for tourist accommodation, $15; for every building or structure in excess of one in which tourist in transient may be accommodated, $5 per building; trailer camps licenses will be $10 for any parcel of land.

It was stated that the purpose of the license was not to obtain revenue but rather to enable the township authorities to control and inspect such premises.

Rescind Resolution

Councillor Les Harper introduced a resolution, seconded by Councillor Fred Timbers, which carried as follows: "This is a

RESERVES DISTRIBUTION REJECTED BY COUNCIL

Whitchurch—When public school inspector O. MacKillop was requested by Whitchurch township council to find an equitable basis to distribute $6,750 of clergy reserves funds among the schools of the township, the distribution was worked out on a salary basis, but the report was rejected by the council on the ground that S. S. 6, north of Gormley, had been left out of the distribution entirely. This was due, apparently, to the fact that the school at S. S. 6 was burned and the scholars are attending Gormley school until the new proposed school is built.

Entitled to Share

S. S. 6 is paying for its pupils going to an outside school and the section is entitled to its share of the distribution. "I wouldn't sign the cheques under that distribution," said Reeve Evans.

Attention was also drawn to the omission of Stouffville school section. Farmers in Whitchurch who belong to the Stouffville union, it was stated, are entitled to their share of the distribution and will probably file a protest if they are omitted from their rightful interest in the clergy reserves fund.

Under inspector MacKillop's award the distribution was as follows:

resolution to rescind resolution passed February 8, whereby no plan will be approved by this council or future councils of the township until such time as applicants set aside ten percent of such plan or subdivision, or in any case not less than one acre for park or play ground purposes.

When the resolution was adopted in February it was anticipated that statutory power would be passed at the last legislature, empowering councils to make this demand, and while it was approved in committee, it was killed by the legislature.

Aurora horse show was given a grant of $25 and March hospitalization was paid totalling $105 as township's share.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. RACHEL SUGDEN
On April 27, Mrs. Rachel Sugden, widow of Robert Sugden, died at Galt. She was the youngest daughter of the late Henry Barker and Rachel Keeter. She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Jane, San Francisco, Cal., who came by air to attend the funeral; two sons, Burk, Fort Erie, and Basil, Galt; two step-children, Ethel Pegg, Dresden, and David Sugden, Dakota, and two sisters, Mrs. Fanny Mainprize, Newmarket, and Mary Jane Crosby, Galt, and four brothers, Robert M. Barker, Toronto, George W. Sharon, Stuart, Chicago, and Eugene, Columbus, Ohio. One brother, Charles, and one sister, Mrs. Martha Coulson, predeceased her.
Mrs. Sugden spent her youth in the neighborhood of Hope until her marriage to Robert Sugden, Zephyr, at which place they resided until Mr. Sugden purchased the grist mill on the Mount Albert road which he operated for a time and then sold to Dike Bros. and moved to Manitoba, eventually homesteading in Nebraska.
After a number of years they returned to Ontario and settled in Toronto. After her husband's death, Mrs. Sugden purchased a home in Toronto and largely by her own efforts was able to maintain a comfortable and happy home where relatives and friends always received a hearty welcome. About two years ago, she sold the Toronto home and moved to Galt to share an apartment house at Galt with her youngest son, Basil, and his wife.
Mrs. Sugden throughout her life was a faithful member of the United church. During her residence in Toronto she attended Hope United church, being an active member for a number of years and latterly at Galt she attended the Presbyterian church just across the street and whose minister came to Newmarket to conduct the funeral. Many beautiful floral displays were sent. The pallbearers were Elgin Evans, Lorne Paynter, Kenneth Bain, Douglas Pottage, Edward Barker and Rex Barker.

Aurora-Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, is holding a Mass in the Aurora Armory at 8 p.m. on Friday, May 30. Good prizes have been announced.

SCOUT NEWS

On Saturday we collected about eight tons of waste paper. Help is needed in cleaning up the depot through the week, even for two hours a night.

A visit was paid to us on Thursday by commissioner Harwood, Toronto.

The ball games have started and everyone's attendance is requested for these games.

Scouts meet on Thursday, come along and bring a pal.

Classifieds bring results.

NEWS OF LEGION

An important general meeting of the Newmarket Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held on Monday, May 26, at 8 o'clock in the Legion club rooms. A full attendance is requested.

Mrs. Donald Brown has replaced Lorna Weddel as convenor of the refreshment committee and Wm. LaParde is chairman of the welfare committee as the former convenor, Milt. Wesley, has moved, with his brother Harry, to Hespeler.

Albert Lindenbaum and Wm. LaParde attended the zone meeting which was held on May 14 at Richmond Hill as representatives of the Newmarket branch.

SPONSOR BALL LEAGUE

Through the sponsorship of the Davis Leather and Office Specialty Companies, two junior baseball leagues are being formed in Newmarket. The Cubs and Scouts, Explorers and Trail Rangers will form the nucleus of the two leagues. The midges will be 9, 10 and 11 years, and the juniors, 12, 13 and 14 years. The juniors must be under 15 by June 1, the midges under 12.

Any Newmarket boy in the above age groups is eligible to play. Those in charge are Alfred Peel, Bert Budd, Chas. Wass, Howard Hugo, Harry Nelson and Wilbur Henry. Beginning Friday, June 6, each league will play 12 games. The team in each league winning 7 out of 12 will be presented with blazers or sweaters with crests and a trophy. Every boy on every team will receive a crest next week.

Rev. Henry Cotton of Trinity United church has accepted the responsibility for organizing these games and obtaining the leaders.

WINS TROPHY

The bowling trophy donated by Herman R. Bennett to the Thursday night ladies' bowling club, for highest pin-fall in nine consecutive games, was won by Hazel Bennett. Mrs. Bennett had four points over the next contestant, Mrs. Ted Robinson.

FARMED IN SCOTT A. F. MYERS DIES

The sudden death of Almer Franklin Myers at his home, lot 23, con. 3, Scott, on Sunday, May 4, came as a shock to his many friends. The funeral took place on Wednesday, May 7, with interment in Zephyr cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. Bamford at the residence.

Almer Franklin Myers was born in Scott twp. in 1896, a son of Jacob R. Myers and the late Nancy Leitch and lived and farmed in Scott twp. all his life. In 1921, he married Gladys May Shaw who, with three sons, Carl and Ralph, at home, and Morley, Jackson's Point, and one daughter, Thelma, at home, also his father and a sister, Mrs. Earl Smith, Rockwood, Ont., are left to mourn.

He was of quiet, industrious disposition and a kindly neighbor and friend.

The funeral was largely attended and the pallbearers were Oscar Silversides, Frank Thompson, Thomas Cain, Carl Myers, M. McNelly and Gordon Rynard.

The flowerbearers were Norman Myers, Walter Myers, Jack Myers, Harry Myers, Howard Smith, Clifford Leitch, Garnet Shaw, Horace Shaw and Preston Hockley.

LAKE SIMCOE LEAGUE PLANS FULL SEASON

A meeting of the Lake Simcoe softball league was held in the municipal hall in Sharon on May 14. Although called the Lake Simcoe league, it includes all the local areas such as Sharon, Mount Albert, Hope, Zephyr, Uxbridge, Keswick and Queensville. According to Ross Chapman, vice president, "We hope to make this league a real success in the coming season," he said. "We want to arrange the games to play as often as possible and we want to see good, clean, healthy games at all times."

Howard Morton, secretary, says the league has a great future ahead and if it can maintain the interest already shown, it will have one of the strongest leagues this side of the lake. "In the summer season, it draws large crowds of the community's sports enthusiasts who follow the games with real interest," he said.

During the meeting election of officers took place as follows: pres., Ivan Eves; first vice pres., Ross Chapman; second vice pres., Bob Pollock; sec., Howard Morton; treas., Archie Dike.

The residence rule, originally a five-mile radius, generally, now reads: "Five miles from the playing field to player's residence by road." It is hoped to announce soon the teams that will be competing and if possible, dates for fixed games.

GET FIVE HURLERS

Newmarket—The Newmarket Vets' softball team has five pitchers on deck at this point, according to manager MacDonald. Joint McComb, Bill VanZant, Don Glover, Art Dobbie, and Lloyd Prest. Vandorf, are all taking turns at twirling the melon. Harv. Gibney has taken over the chores of assistant manager. Regular Monday, Wednesday and Friday night practices at Stuart Scott school grounds are being carried on as usual.

The North York GARDENER

By JOHN DALY
Vice President, Newmarket Horticultural Society

Continuing our list of possibilities for garden borders, we have:

Iberis (candytuft): 6" high with white flowers, in rock gardens, edgings, etc. Iris: Another must and one requiring a column to itself. It has been improved beyond recognition in recent years and more new varieties are being introduced yearly. The planting time is July to September, so we'll deal with them at a later date.

Lithrum: Morden pink is the best variety, 2'-2½' high, blooms in July and August, clear pink spikes of flowers; Lycalis: The most common variety is Chalcedonia or Scarlet Jerusalem Cross, 2'-3', with scarlet flowers, blooms June to July.

Lilium: No perennial border is complete without some of these. Most lilies are planted in the fall, and in a later column we shall discuss them. Lupinus: This is another greatly improved plant. The Russell strain introduced nine or ten years ago seems to be the best. They are perfectly hardy and worth trying.

Monarda: Grows 3'-4' high, with crimson flowers, July to September. Peonies: Must have! Fall planting is the rule for the peony so we will leave them to a later date.

Poppy: There are several popular types of these. The Iceland and the Oriental are best known. The former is easily raised from seed and has a lovely variety of pastel shades. The Oriental poppies have extremely vivid colors and may not blend very well with other colors in the border. Named varieties can be obtained and knowing the color in advance will help you to place them to advantage. August is the planting time for these.

Grow 2'-3' high and colors range from white to pink, salmon, orange, red, and crimson.

Phlox: This is another indispensable plant. They too have been greatly improved in recent years. Some favorites are: Antonin Mercier: July to August, 3' high, violet color; Daily Sketch: clear pink, August to September, 3' in height. This is one of the most popular. Elizabeth Campbell: salmon pink, August to September, 2 - 3' in height.

Euroda: white with rosy pink eye, August to September, 3' in height; Ferebrand: very bright red, 2'-2½', July to September; Hans Vollmoller: lavender, 2'-3', August to September; Henderson's pale white: white, 2½'-3½', August to October; Jules Sandeau: lovely pink, 1'-2', July to September; Lena: dark red, 3', July to September; Lord Lambourne: pink with white eye, 3', August; Blindlander: salmon rose with crimson eye, 2½', July to August.

RACING RUMORS

Can't tell you whether or not Earl Rowe's pride and joy, the three-year-old Watch Wreck, will start on Saturday in the King's Plate. By the time you read this, trainer Harry Giddings will have made a decision, whether the quarter-crack developed just prior to the Plate trials last week is good enough to start the bay gelding. We've been touting the Rowe horse, as you know, and it's a tough break to the owner and the many who followed him in the winter books to see him either scratched or entered not as fit as he might be for the big race. To save space, just call "Doc" Lockhart or "Doc" Walker to inquire about what a quarter-crack is.

John Stuart, Aurora born race owner, won the Anthony Smith Memorial Trophy last Saturday with Worthwood. Mr. Smith, as will be recalled, lived just south of Aurora prior to enlisting and Mrs. Smith was residing there until a few months ago. As might be guessed, it was a steeplechase event. Doug Isaacs, Markham township farmer, but the headlines on Saturday as his horse, Lovely Fox, won the first race at Woodbine, paying $54.80. Isaacs had 12 tickets at $2 apiece on her and that enabled him to cover every horse in the second contest, which went to Air Cadet which paid $44.10. The two paid off on the daily double to nine lucky pickers at $2,190.50 each. Isaacs picked up Lovely Lady, a thoroughbred on its way to the glue factory by reason of injuries, bred her to Charlie Hemstead's Happy Fox and the result really paid off. The purse was worth $1,300.

Marj McCannan will play her softball this season in the Danforth senior circuit which is fast becoming a real rival for the Sunnyside league. Sunday Morning Class, for whom the Newmarket girl played last season, disbanded this season and Marj will be with the Dorsts club which has gathered in a strong line-up. She still rates as one of the top infielders in Ontario. Canadian Legion softball will be played in two sections this year. A will include all municipalities over 7,500 and B will cover the rest. Any team can draw from a branch within its zone which has not a competing team. It looks like a big year for the ex-servicemen.

Cecil Brown, who used to serve up the big apple for Newmarket camp softballers, and Bunny Glover who guarded third base for Aurora R.C.O.C., are both playing for Halliwell's in the Toronto Ki-Y league. The York-Peel softball circuit is organized for the summer with Schomberg, Nobleton, King, Maple, Bolton, Nashville, Thistleton and two Woodbridge teams entered. Norman Davidson is president of the group and Mel Hooper is the hard working secretary-treasurer. Play starts next week. Al McNair, the Maple lacrosse stalwart, is guiding the destinies of the King City club which returns to softball competition this year. Congrats to that dynamic sports figure from Schomberg, Bob Moody, who was elected first vice president of the Ontario Rural Softball league at the annual meeting last week.

SIDEWALK FOREMAN SUPERVISE SHOVEL

Newmarket—The Newmarket Association of Sidewalk Superintendents, senior and junior chapters, occupied front seats on Main St. Monday as a steam shovel began work on the site of a proposed block of offices to be built in front of the house of Dr. L. W. Dales. Members of the association had considerable advice to offer the operator of the shovel although there was some criticism when the water pipe was snagged in the teeth of the shovel and broken.

Dr. Dales' plan is to build a block of professional offices on the front of his lot, and he is considering the provision of a medical clinic. At the same time, he is remodelling the interior of the building and is erecting a wing on the east end of it for additional apartments on the first and second floor. He has moved from his Prospect Ave. home and is living on Main St.

The residence has had a long history, one which has seen a series of alterations as successive medical men incorporated their idea of a model home and office combination. Dr. Hutt, Dr. Olton, Dr. Ames and Dr. Dales have occupied the building, and it was there in 1920 that Dr. Dales opened what eventually developed into York County hospital.

Returned Man Buried After Auto Accident

Frank Robert Welch, Pefferlaw, who died in Toronto General hospital on Tuesday, May 13, as the result of a traffic accident, was buried at Newmarket cemetery on Friday. Rev. L. E. Sparks took the services at the Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. Welch, a carpenter, was born in Toronto in 1914, the son of William Welch and Eva Sweet, who now reside at 157 Main St., Newmarket. He married Adeline Reid. He served in the army for three-and-a-half years, of which three were spent in England, France, Italy and Germany.

Mr. Welch was an adherent of the Church of the Nazarene. He is survived by his parents, his wife, two sons, three daughters, one sister, and two cousins.

Motorize Your Car

FOR SPRING AND SUMMER DRIVING

Car need repairs? Of course we can fix it! But better still, we can help avoid big repair bills by servicing your car to prevent trouble. Summer's here and hot weather will kick up problems unless your car is conditioned for it in advance.

Use B-A Products

Change your engine oil, change your transmission and differential oil to summer lubricant. Lubricate chassis, clean and space spark plugs and check batteries.
